SouthWest Germany is not only one of Europe's leading dining destinations, it is also famous for its stunning vineyards producing fine wines. And, this is also Germany's premier spa destination with some 60 spa and health resorts. As well as being one of the most attractive regions in Germany, SouthWest Germany is the birth-

GENERAL INFORMATION

HOW TO GET THERE

Right in the heart of Europe, SouthWest Germany is easy to get to by air, road and rail.

By air

Stuttgart, Karlsruhe/Baden-Baden and Friedrichshafen are all international airports.

Stuttgart Airport (STR) welcomes direct flights from countries around the world. The airport is only 8 miles (13 km) from the city center. The S2 and S3 urban train lines provide a fast, direct connection to the main railway station in just 27 minutes. The airport is just off the A8 Karlsruhe–Munich motorway (Autobahn). Further information on www.stuttgart-airport.com

Two additional airports, Karlsruhe/Baden-Baden Airport (QKA, www.badenairpark.de) and Friedrichshafen Airport (FDH, www.fly-away.de), have flights to and from European cities.

Further convenient international gateways

From the North:

- Frankfurt International Airport (FRA)
(120 miles/200 km from Stuttgart)

From the East:

- Munich Airport (MUC)
(150 miles/240 km from Stuttgart)

From the South:

- EuroAirport Basel/Mulhouse/Freiburg (BSL)
(160 miles/260 km from Stuttgart)
- Zurich Airport (ZRH), Switzerland
(135 miles/220 km from Stuttgart)

By Rail

Traveling by train is a convenient alternative to flying – and is often the quickest way of getting around Europe, Germany and SouthWest Germany. Long-distance and local networks are coordinated to ensure quick, easy connections. The ICE-Intercity Express high speed service offers at least one train every hour between Germany's major cities and neighboring countries, such as Austria, Switzerland, Belgium, and the Netherlands. For example, from Paris to Stuttgart takes only 3 hours, 40 minutes on the ICE/TGV high speed train.

Deutsche Bahn has a wide range of tailor-made services for visitors traveling to, or within, Germany by rail. For information, timetables and tickets, please visit www.bahn.com.

By Car

SouthWest Germany has an excellent network of roads, including motorways/highways (Autobahn). There are no tolls for passenger cars. Drivers are required to carry a valid driver's license, vehicle registration documents, and proof of proper insurance. Seatbelts must be worn in all seats, front and rear, at all times. Only hands-free cell (mobile) phones may be used. The minimum driving age is 18 years.

As in the rest of continental Europe, traffic is on the right-hand side of the road. Passing on the right is prohibited. For passenger cars, the speed limit outside residential areas is 62 mph/100 km/h. In urban areas, it is 31 mph/50 km/h. On the Autobahn, the maximum recommended speed is 80 mph/130 km/h.

Rental cars are available in larger towns and cities, from locations, such as airports, railway stations and hotels. All categories are available, including vans, compact cars, convertibles and, of course, fast sports cars. Look for weekend deals!

Please note: to improve the quality of life and the environment, 32 German cities have (or are about to implement) new Low Emission Zones. Only vehicles displaying an 'Emission Badge' (Umwelt-Plakette) are allowed to enter. Rental cars usually have all the required stickers and permits.

QUALITY ACCOMMODATION IN SOUTHWEST GERMANY

Come to SouthWest Germany FOR GREAT CITIES AND FAIRYTALE CASTLES

SouthWest Germany (Baden-Württemberg) is special: grand cities and fairytale castles, picture postcard villages and traditional festivals, great museums and jolly Christmas markets. Wherever and whenever you choose to go, you are always close to a major attraction, so distances are short ... and your clients are happy!

GREAT CITIES

Stuttgart

SouthWest Germany's capital has it all. Do your clients want to visit grand palaces overlooking equally imposing squares? Or see leading-edge architecture and funky museums? Perhaps attend a great opera or classical concert? Or, explore two of the world's finest automobile museums in the city that gave us Mercedes-Benz and Porsche? Then this is the right place. The downtown is packed with plenty to see and do; minutes away are vineyards. Favorite festivals include the Wine Village (late Aug/early Sep), the Beer Festival (late Sep/early Oct) and the Christmas Market (Nov/Dec).

Heidelberg

One of Europe's most romantic cities, Heidelberg is famous for its castle, a must-see for groups or couples, with fabulous views over the city and Neckar River. A lovely trip is aboard the 100-year-old funicular railway to the top of the Königstuhl (hill). Visit for events, such as the Heidelberg Castle Illuminations (June, July, Sep), the Heidelberg Castle Festival, with outdoor operetta (late June/early Aug), and the Christmas Market (late Nov/Dec).

Baden-Baden

One of Europe's most sophisticated destinations, this five-star resort town is on the edge of the Black Forest. Visitors have been soaking in the hot mineral spring water for 2,000 years. Today, the palatial Friedrichsbad spa offers a traditional experience; the Caracalla a more modern one. With its grand hotels and chic shops, parks and gardens, Baden-Baden is relaxing and stylish. Entertainment is world-class in the elegant 19th-century Kurhaus, with its glamorous casino, and the Festival Hall (Festspielhaus), Europe's second largest concert and opera house.

Freiburg

The country's southernmost major city is also the warmest and sunniest. The traffic-free old heart is medieval, with a grand 14th-century cathedral. But Freiburg is also the world's leading 'eco-city': low-energy housing, solar power, and green hotels. Groups are welcomed on tours of private homes to see green initiatives in action. It makes an excellent base for trips into the Black Forest and nearby vineyards.

← Hohenzollern Castle

Ulm

The medieval Minster is topped by the tallest steeple in the world (530 ft/161 m). But there is so much more, especially in the charming old Fishermen's Quarter (Fischerviertel), with its half-timbered houses and narrow alleyways. Albert Einstein, the city's most famous son, is remembered with an annual marathon in September and the Einsteinbrunnen, a much-photographed sculpture-cum-fountain.

Karlsruhe

With its botanical garden and art museums, Karlsruhe spreads out like a fan from its palace: a remarkable piece of 18th-century town planning. Appealing to the avant-garde is the interactive ZKM museum in the Center for Art and Media Technology.

MAINAU ISLAND, LAKE CONSTANCE

Everyone loves this island, with one of the world's great sub-tropical gardens: tulips in spring, roses in summer, dahlias in fall.

Constance/Konstanz

Clients love Constance for its charming variety: a medieval heart, Lake Constance, gardens and fountains. This is Germany's Riviera, with outdoor summer concerts and Seenachtsfest, a fabulous 500-year-old firework festival (second Sat, Aug). The city is the gateway to the islands of Reichenau (abbey) and Mainau (glorious gardens).

Pforzheim

Nicknamed the 'City of Gold', Pforzheim has long been – and still is – a center for jewelry and watch making in Germany. Clients love the Pforzheim Jewelry World (Schmuckwelten), where they can admire gemstones, watch jewelry being made, and then buy it. In the unique and stunning Pforzheim Jewelry Museum (Schmuckmuseum), guests are dazzled by the displays of glittering jewelry covering 5,000 years of superb artistry.

FAIRY TALE CASTLES

Walt Disney and the Brothers Grimm must have been inspired by SouthWest Germany's palaces and castles.

Hohenzollern Castle

A mountain-top eyrie, with towers and battlements. On a tour, you half-expect to meet a princess round every corner. The ancestral seat of Prussian Kings and German Emperors, as well as the Swabian branch of the Princes of Hohenzollern, this ranks among Europe's most famous and popular castles.

Meersburg's old castle

With 1,300 years of history. Cross the draw-bridge and step back in time, with armor, battle axes, and the knights' hall. Overlooking Lake Constance.

Come to SouthWest Germany FOR THE GREAT OUTDOORS

A man and a woman are hiking in a lush, green forest. The woman, on the left, is wearing a red shirt and a backpack, and is holding a map. The man, on the right, is wearing a blue shirt and a backpack, and is pointing at the map. They are standing on a dirt path, surrounded by tall trees and green foliage. In the background, there are rolling hills and a clear blue sky.

Do you want to send your clients somewhere with great weather and lots to do outdoors in a clean, green environment? Welcome to SouthWest Germany! Summers are hot and fall is delightful – the perfect incentive for getting out and doing something active. And the scenery cannot be beaten. In summer, the meadows, valleys and low, heavily forested mountains are lush, green and warm; in fall/autumn, the blue skies and crisp evenings are perfect for that overnight stay in a country inn, with a roaring log fire. And, of course, fall is grape-harvesting time.

GREAT DESTINATIONS

The Black Forest

Famous for its cuckoo clocks and cake/gateau, the Black Forest (Schwarzwald) is also an outdoor playground. This low range of mountains includes valleys with bubbling streams, open moorland, thickly wooded hillsides and lakes. The highest point is the Feldberg (4,898 ft/1,493 m); hikers can take a cable car to the top for invigorating walks and fabulous views.

Lake Constance

Framed by the Alps and surrounded by orchards and vineyards, this is Germany's Riviera: sunny, pretty, laid back. A must for visitors for centuries, Lake Constance (Bodensee) is dotted with islands, such as Reichenau, with its monastery, and Mainau, world-famous for its gardens. Around the lake are attractive charming baroque towns, such as Meersburg.

Swabian Mountains

If your clients want to go somewhere less well-known, a great choice is the Swabian Mountains (Swabian Alb), where you can take landscape adventure tours led by trained rangers and visit museums showing off the fossils of the region. Most fun in this UNESCO geopark are the numerous caverns, such as Charlotte's Cave (Charlottenhöhle). Near Giengen an der Brenz, this stretches for 2,000 ft/587 m and is full of impressive stalactites and stalagmites.

ACTIVE VACATIONS

Clean, green SouthWest Germany has long been a destination for active vacationers from all over Europe. In summer, visitors love to hike, cycle and go mountain biking in the Black Forest or the Swabian Mountains, or to sail and windsurf on Lake Constance. And thanks to the success of players such as Germany's Bernhard Langer, former World No 1, golf has boomed in recent years. The rolling landscape is ideal for challenging courses, with glorious scenery and first-class hotels.

Cycling

SouthWest Germany is criss-crossed with cycle routes for all ages and abilities. Choose from 17 long-distance options that lead visitors through the region's most scenic landscapes, with popular sights and attractions en route. Accommodation packages that include luggage transfer are also available for many of these fabulous routes. Some of the most popular run alongside rivers or lakes. The Danube Cycle Path stretches for 120 miles/190 km between Donaueschingen and Ulm. Following the Lake Constance Cycle Path (170 miles/275 km) along the lake shore, your guests pedal through Austria and Switzerland, as well as Germany. A particularly pretty section of the Neckar Cycle Path is between Heilbronn and Mannheim (80 miles/130 km), passing vineyards, medieval towns and Heidelberg, with its famous castle.

Watersports

SouthWest Germany's passion for being clean and green also applies to lakes and rivers, so that swimming and water sports can be enjoyed safely by all.

Lake Titisee

Set high in the Black Forest (2,800 ft/850 m), Titisee-Neustadt is a popular summer destination, where motorboats are banned on the lake. Long a stop for groups and individuals traveling the German Clock Road (Deutsche Uhrenstrasse), Titisee is easy on the eye, surrounded by meadows and forest. Anglers come for the huge pike; hikers climb Hochfirst (4,000 ft/1,192 m) for its fabulous views.

Lake Schluchsee

On the Black Forest's largest lake, visitors can have a go at everything from sailing and windsurfing to rowing and canoeing. Only electric boats are allowed. Families enjoy the Aqua Fun water park with its giant slide.

THE WORLDS FIRST HIKING TRAIL

A century ago, Philipp Bussemer started the hiking craze. In the Black Forest, he mapped out the Westweg (West Way) hiking trail and opened a tourist information center with maps and postcards. Your clients can celebrate SouthWest Germany's gift to the world by hiking all or part of the West Trail from Pforzheim to Basel, Switzerland (180 miles/300 km). Book them into charming inns and B&Bs along the route.

Come to SouthWest Germany FOR GREAT WINES, GREAT FOOD

Good food is a vital part of the vacation experience and SouthWest Germany delivers – particularly when it comes to local dishes made with local produce, accompanied by local wines and beers. At the gourmet level, SouthWest Germany boasts a galaxy of Michelin stars – more than 50 in the past edition of the influential French dining guide. That is a quarter of Germany's total Michelin awards! But, as well as fine dining, SouthWest Germany is known for its traditional restaurants serving hearty dishes, based on local, high-quality vegetables, fish, meat and fruit. Not forgetting some of Europe's finest wines and beers!

FOOD

Every farmer's market is piled high with organic (Bio in German) produce: orchard fruits and cheeses, vegetables and meats. These are the ingredients for popular local dishes.

- Black Forest Cake: clients usually report that a 'slice of the real thing' was the highlight of a trip, with lots of chocolate, cream and special cherries!
- Kässpätzle: like a cheesy pasta
- Maultaschen: Swabian ravioli, filled with meat, onions and spinach
- Ofenschlupfer: apple pie
- Schwarzwälder Schinken: cured, smoked ham
- Spätzle: delicate egg noodles
- Zwiebelrostbraten: rib-eye steak with crispy onions

VEGETARIANS WELCOME!

Nowadays, more and more menus offer vegetarian options. Look for the word 'vegetarisch'.

WINE

Clients love nothing better on a warm sunny day than sitting outside a 200-year-old tavern, with a local beer or a glass of local wine. Or, sipping a rare Schnapps by a roaring log fire in winter. SouthWest Germany makes some of the world's finest beers, wines ... and fruit brandies.

And it is so easy to meet the locals. Just follow one of the world-famous wine routes: stop by a wine grower for a chat and a tasting; enjoy a guided walk through the vineyards. Aiming at connoisseurs? Book them into a wine seminar – with tastings, of course!

SouthWest Germany's wines tend to be light, lively and fruity. What you quaff in German inns and taverns tends to be dry (trocken) or medium-dry (halb-trocken) ... unlike the medium-sweet wines (lieblich) that are often exported to North America. Taste the difference at a Weingut, a winery.

← Great grapes, great wines

Baden Region

In the southernmost of Germany’s 13 wine districts, Baden is the third biggest wine-growing area in Germany and one of the premium wine regions in Europe. While the Baden Region is known for its white wines, Württemberg is renowned for its reds. Drive the Baden Wine Road (Badische Weinstrasse) between Baden-Baden and Weil am Rhein (100 miles/160 km), with plenty of picturesque and inviting wine taverns along the way. Enjoy grape varieties, such as Pinot Noir (red), Pinot Gris (white) and Pinot Blanc (white).

Württemberg Region

Along the Neckar River, north of Stuttgart, the Württemberg wine region also produces red wine. On steep slopes, many vineyards are small and family-owned. Explore the Württemberg Wine Road (Württembergischer Weinstrasse). Drive all or part of its 318 miles/511 km, stopping at inns to sample wines made from local grape varieties, such as Trollinger and Lemberger.

GREAT FESTIVALS, GREAT FUN

Stuttgart Wine Village

For two weeks (late Aug – early Sep), Stuttgart’s Wine Village (Stuttgarter Weindorf) hosts one of Germany’s largest wine and food festivals: 250 wines, 120 stalls.

Freiburg Wine Festival

Outside the cathedral, this week-long festival (early July) showcases some 400 different wines from Baden. Your clients can talk to local wine growers and eat slices of traditional onion tart.

Fellbach Fall/Autumn Festival

For those wanting a more local event, suggest the Fellbacher Herbst, held in mid-October, near Stuttgart.

HEILBRONN

In the picturesque Neckar Valley, Heilbronn is the heart of Germany’s No 1 red-wine producing area. A highlight is the annual 9-day wine festival in September (Heilbronner Weindorf), perfect for groups or individuals. But, the Besen and Strausswirtschaft (vineyard taverns) are fun at any time of the year.

Asparagus Time

Between April and June, white asparagus (Spargel) is featured on the menu in every restaurant and tavern. Eat it with hollandaise, just butter, or in a soup. There is even an Asparagus Trail (Badische Spargelstrasse) from Schwetzingen to Lichtenau-Scherzheim, with festivals all along the way.

BEER

Beer is another regional specialty, with many local breweries offering guided brewery tours with tastings. Set in historic buildings, these tasting tours are always a sure-fire hit for groups.

STUTTGART BEER FESTIVAL

The 200-year-old Cannstatter Wasen (late Sep/mid-Oct) is more authentic than the Munich event: oompah bands, folk costumes, sauerkraut, and crispy pork knuckles. Alongside is a fairground, with Ferris wheels and rides.

Come to SouthWest Germany JUST FOR THE FUN OF IT!

Variety is an essential ingredient in any destination. SouthWest Germany really does offer something for everyone: relaxing spas; fabulous shopping; theme parks; magical Christmas markets. Not forgetting great convention facilities and glamorous casinos!

GERMANY'S SPA CAPITAL

In Europe, SouthWest Germany is known for its high quality spas and health resorts. Royalty and nobility flocked to the region to 'take the waters'. Today, the 57 health resorts and spas are open to all.

Baden-Baden

One of Europe's most elegant resort destinations also boasts the world's most glamorous public spa: the Friedrichsbad, with its so-called Roman-Irish baths in an ornate 19th-century building. More modern is the Caracalla spa (thermal mineral baths), with its indoor/outdoor pool.

Badenweiler

The Romans loved the warm mineral springs, but today's visitors to the Cassiopeia Therme choose from Turkish baths, massages and more. An attractive town, with elegant park and 1,700 hours of sunshine a year!

Überlingen

As well as traditional hot spring water, this modern spa on Lake Constance has the latest treatments: waterfalls with underwater music, herbal saunas, wellness programs as well as a beautiful view of the lake.

SHOPPING

Thanks to an abundance of car-free, pedestrianized areas, shopping is a pleasure in SouthWest Germany's cities and towns. Choose from boutiques and department stores, such as the luxurious Breuninger flagship store in Stuttgart. TOUR C – Culinary Delights

Great food, great wine, great beer:
a great combination!

Day 1: Stuttgart

For first-time visitors, the biggest surprise about Stuttgart is wine: not only do vineyards surround the city, they extend into the center itself! Book a wine discovery tour, stopping at romantic inns in the city and beautiful vineyards along the Neckar River. Visit a local wine maker, enjoy a tasting in his tavern, walk through the vines. Learn about the long tradition of producing wine at the Stuttgart Viniculture Museum in Uhlbach. Of course, good wine and good food go together. Stuttgart offers a wide choice of gastronomic destinations, from award-winning gourmet restaurants and traditional restaurants to cozy wine bars, modern bars and popular cafés. But don't ignore the beer: Stuttgart has three major breweries, each producing outstanding beers. Tip: The Stuttgart Wine Village (late Aug); the Stuttgart Beer Festival (late Sep).

Day 2: Baden-Baden – Baiersbronn

Continue to Baden-Baden. Temptations in the surrounding area include the outstanding restaurant in Neuweier Castle or coffee and cake on the terrace of Yburg Castle, with its views over the vineyards. Drive south along the Baden Wine Route. To your right is the Rhineland Plain and also the Kaiserstuhl region famed for its vineyards. To your left are spectacular views of the Black Forest, with its dense trees, lush valleys and sparkling lakes. Take time to stop in classic wine villages, such as Sasbachwalden or Kappelrodeck. Here you can also have a vineyard tour and a wine tasting. As well as excellent wines, locals also produce top-class schnapps, fruit brandies! Continue to Baiersbronn – the only town in Germany that can boast seven Michelin stars, shared between three restaurants. Treat yourself at one of these award-winning restaurants, or enjoy typical Black Forest dishes in an informal local pub.

Day 3: Alpirsbach – Freiburg – Breisach

Continue to Alpirsbach. Monks have always been great brewers, and the town's 900-year-old monastery has a brewery (Alpirsbacher Klosterbräu), where you can enjoy a beer after a beer-themed tour. Further southwest is the Markgräflerland between the Rhine and the Black Forest mountains. With its more Mediterranean climate, this is a pretty landscape of vineyards, meadows, orchards, and forest. Stop in medieval Freiburg, with its fine cathedral, old houses and excellent restaurants. Continue to Breisach, a charming city on the Rhine and the gateway to Alsace (France). The city is well-known for its Burgundy-style wines and Sekt, sparkling wine: the famous Geldermann Sektkellerei is a cellar specializing in bubbly! Wine bars abound, all with a great atmosphere.

Day 4: Lake Titisee – Überlingen – Meersburg

Drive to picturesque Lake Titisee. The best way to enjoy the spectacular Black Forest scenery is from the deck of a cruise boat. On shore, sit back and relax with a slice of real Black Forest Cake: the original is still the best! Continue to sunny Lake Constance (Bodensee), known as 'Germany's Riviera'. Europe's third-largest lake is bordered by three countries: Germany, Austria and Switzerland. The shoreline is beautiful, with its gardens, orchards and vineyards framed by the Alps. Foodies appreciate the cuisine, based on freshly-caught fish from the lake – whitefish, pike-perch and perch. Finish your meal with a schnapps, a fruit brandy made from fine local fruits. Stop in medieval Überlingen and take a cruise on the lake, or enjoy a gourmet dinner trip on the Hohentwiel, a historic paddle steamer. Stay overnight in Meersburg, a small romantic town surrounded by vineyards. Taste the wines; visit medieval taverns (Weinstuben).

Day 5:

Bad Schussenried – Trochtelfingen – Esslingen

Head north to Bad Schussenried on the Upper Swabian Baroque Road, where you can visit Germany's first – and only – beer mug museum! Take a guided tour of the brewery, then stay for lunch at the brewery's own restaurant or beer garden – with a glass of Schussenrieder, of course! Continue to Trochtelfingen in the Swabian Mountains, known for its Swabian 'spätzle', or pasta. These delicious organic noodles are made at Alb-Gold. Tour their 'Noodle World' to learn about the 150 sorts of pasta they make; take part in a cookery demonstration. In Esslingen, close to Stuttgart, celebrate the end of your gastronomic tour with a visit to Kessler, Germany's oldest producer of sparkling wine. Sip a glass of 'Kessler Sekt'. Prost! Cheers!

TOUR D – Car Country

automobile! Tip: Stay the night nearby in Heidelberg.

The Auto & Technik Museum in Sinsheim offers Europe's largest private collection of cars, planes, motorcycles and more: a Concorde, a Russian Tupolev TU-144, plus the largest permanent Formula 1 exhibition in Europe. Drive on to Stuttgart, the unofficial capital of Germany's car industry and the cradle of the automobile industry. Take time to explore the Mercedes-Benz Museum and the Porsche Museum: both are fascinating presentations of the history of motor vehicles. See how they have changed the way we live, from the 1880s to the present – with a glimpse of the future!

Day 3: Stuttgart – Schorndorf – Böblingen

At the Gottlieb Daimler Memorial in the Stuttgart suburb of Bad Cannstatt, see the workbench where Daimler and Maybach assembled their single-cylinder gasoline engines, as well as a full-size replica of the 1885 engine and a model of the world's first motorboat. Daimler's birthplace (now a museum) is in Schorndorf a picturesque town just outside Stuttgart. Nearby, in Fellbach, is the Mercedes-Benz Classic Center, where a specialist team looks after vehicles from the Mercedes-Benz Museum. They also repair and restore vehicles for which series production stopped at least 20 years ago. Spend the evening at the Meilenwerk in Böblingen (southwest of Stuttgart), an Aladdin's cave for car lovers. This vast space has everything from cars old and new to accessories, plus a restaurant and brewery. Stay at the neighboring V8 Hotel, where the rooms are themed around cars, from Route 66 to a carwash! Tip: Book a classic car tour and drive through lovely countryside in a classic roadster.

Day 4: Böblingen – Friedrichshafen

The sky's the limit in Friedrichshafen on Lake Constance. This was the birthplace of the airship, and as well as touring the world's most important collection of airship technology in the Zeppelin Museum, you can also take a flight in a Zeppelin airship! Cruise high above Lake Constance; enjoy spectacular views of lakes and mountains. Another major figure in aviation was Claude Dornier, who designed the first giant flying boat and helped to set numerous air speed records. As well as being members of the 'slow food' movement, we care for our environment: 90 percent of our produce is locally-sourced. Frank Rombach-Hekele cooks with passion; Barbara Rombach concentrates on finding the best regional wines, home-made preserves, herbal teas, lemonade and more. Our rooms are individually furnished with antiques, and the whole of our 100-year-old inn exudes a feel of yesteryear. In the leafy beer garden, you can see the famous baroque monastery, a short walk away.

The Landhotel Adlerhof could not be in a more magical spot: this is the Black Forest at its prettiest. Nature lovers adore the unspoiled, panoramic views. Out in the hotel's spacious gardens, sit on a bench and take a break from the stress and strain of everyday life. We welcome families, and small children enjoy having room to run around. On a hillside, surrounded by woods and vineyards, guests have easy access to cycling and hiking trails.

In an idyllic, peaceful spot in Waldau, this is the oldest Black Forest inn in Titisee-Neustadt. The Traube, with its warm hospitality and genuine comfort, offers an authentic Black Forest experience. Expect lots of wood in our typical Black Forest pub and in the modern, well-appointed – but rustic-looking – rooms and holiday apartments. Here, every season has its own particular charm. Right outside our door are hiking trails, ski lifts and cross-country ski trails. The Feldberg mountain is only 20 minutes away.

Dating back to 1846, the State Art Gallery (Staatliche Kunsthalle) not only features one of Germany's oldest and best collections, but is one of the few still in its original setting. Some 800 paintings and sculptures from the past eight centuries are displayed in the main galleries and the Orangery. There are also regular temporary exhibitions of classical and contemporary art. One of the oldest collections of graphic art in Europe is the Museum of Prints and Drawings, with more than 80,000 works.

The Upper Black Forest mountains are a natural backdrop for this varied experience for young and old. The entertainment includes a petting zoo with young animals, a range of small animals and large trout, the world's longest adventure rope bridge, a museum and Black Forest Train, cinema and simulator, a fantastic adventure playground, as well as breathtaking thrill rides: a rollercoaster, bobsled run, River Splash, chairlift, toboggan ride. Tree house for children's birthday parties.

Pforzheim Jewelry World (SCHMUCKWELTEN) is a unique experience. Part museum of jewelry and watchmaking, part workshop, part jewelry store, this attraction in Pforzheim takes jewelry and watch design to new heights. Guests are fascinated as they explore this 43,000 sq ft/4,000 m² Jewelry World. They can see a wall of solid gold bricks, be dazzled by priceless gemstones, and shop to their heart's content, choosing from 200 brands of jewelry and watches. Welcome to Pforzheim – after 300 years, this is still the 'City of Gold'!

Inspired by the Palace of Versailles, the grandiose Palace of Rastatt was built by Margrave Ludwig Wilhelm of Baden-Baden. Inside, Italian artists decorated the ceilings with dazzling paintings and intricate stucco molding. With its three wings embracing an Court of Honor (Ehrenhof), this baroque palace is one of the few that survived World War Two unscathed, so don't miss the grand state rooms on the main floor (Beletage), the military museum, and a museum devoted to Germany's struggle for freedom and democracy.

LAKE CONSTANCE

Europe's prettiest lake

Promenades lined with palm trees; vineyard-covered hillsides; apple orchards and lush meadows – and all against the dramatic backdrop of the Alps. Welcome to the German Riviera! But Lake Constance (Bodensee in German) offers more than gorgeous scenery. Along the lake are half-timbered medieval villages and baroque towns. There's the historic, lively, university city of Constance (Konstanz) and Friedrichshafen, the birthplace of the airship, with its fascinating Zeppelin Museum. 'Must do' day trips for visitors of all ages include the islands: Mediterranean-like Mainau, famous for its flower gardens; and Reichenau, with its impressive UNESCO World Heritage Site monastery. Also sharing the lake are neighboring Switzerland and Austria.

Lush flowers year-round, a park with a 150-year-old tree population, the stately baroque splendor of the palace and the church – that is Mainau, the ‘flower island’ on Lake Constance (Bodensee). Every year, about 1.2 million visitors explore the 111-acre/45 ha island. Thanks to the ever-changing tapestry of flowers during the seasons, the outstanding arboretum, one of Germany’s largest butterfly houses, as well as the remarkable playgrounds and other attractions, Mainau is today the largest tourist attraction on Lake Constance.

Great fun, great rides, great adventures! On your marks, get set, have fun! This popular theme park on Lake Constance is fun for all the family. Meet Fix & Foxi, the world’s jolliest foxes; stand by for surprises, such as singing lighthouses in Käpt’n Blaubär’s Wonderland; get ready for thrills on the 400 yd/400 m-long wildwater Alpine rafting experience. Explore the amazing labyrinth, like a giant board game.

The abbey and castle are among the most beautiful and important cultural attractions in the Lake Constance region. Founded as a Cistercian monastery in 1134, the abbey flourished in the Middle Ages. The impressive Gothic minster is a reminder that this was one of the richest abbeys in Germany. After a fire in 1697, the abbey was rebuilt in the baroque style. Today, visitors can enjoy the palace, with its dramatic decoration, as well as the elaborate gardens and crafts shops. The Fire Department Museum boasts antique fire engines.

In SouthWest Germany, close to Stuttgart, is situated the Tripsdrill Amusement Park (Erlebnispark Tripsdrill). The typical Swabian park is characterised by its lovely conception and humorous tradition. Surrounded by picturesque green fields the visitors are awaiting over 100 inventive attractions; above all the wooden coaster 'Mammut', the Washtub-Rafting, the Splashy Sea Ride for Sailors. In the Wildlife Park Tripsdrill visitors can watch and pet 130 animals and even stay the night in cosy shepherd's wagons or tree houses.

Overlooking the city, Heidelberg Castle is one of Germany's best-known cultural icons. Between the 13th and 18th century, this massive fortress was also a royal residence. Since war and fire ravaged the buildings, the castle has been a romantic Renaissance ruin. Admission to the castle courtyard includes entry to the Apothecary Museum and the Great Vat, a 52,000-gallon (200,000-liter) wine barrel. In summer, the courtyard is a backdrop for classical concerts, operas and theater.

Linking together some 90 castles and palaces between Mannheim and Prague, the Castle Road (Burgenstraße) is one of the most famous driving routes in Germany. Along the way are some of the world's most popular destinations: Heidelberg Castle, the medieval town of Rothenburg ob der Tauber and Nurnberg's Kaiserburg. Guests feel that they are traveling back in time, when they stay in our gorgeous castle and palace hotels. They love our historic festivals, outdoor concerts, medieval tournaments and romantic Christmas markets.

After a massive restoration, completed in 2007, Germany's largest baroque building again looks as magnificent as it did back in 1760. Parts of the palace are now used by the university. But visitors can still explore the birthplace of the orchestral techniques known as the Mannheim School. The palace museum offers insights into the royal way of life: the Knights' Hall, grand ceiling paintings, royal furnishings, and priceless collections of paintings. STUTTGART REGION

Cars and culture, wine and festivals

The Stuttgart Region enjoys the good things in life: culture, wine – and great cars. It's 125 years since Mr. Benz patented the first car as we know it; and he did it right here. This is still the home of Mercedes-Benz and also Porsche, whose heritage and style are celebrated in museums that are architecturally-stunning on the outside, dynamic and hands-on inside. As well as hosting world-class opera, ballet and art galleries, the city is at the heart of one of Germany's finest wine regions. It also stages Germany's second-biggest beer festival (Cannstatter Volksfest) and has a long list of award-winning restaurants, trendy bars and traditional cafés. But, for most visitors, the region's main appeal is its friendly people; join them in sipping a glass of red wine in a village tavern or at one of the many annual festivals.

High in the forest to the west of Stuttgart, Solitude Palace (Schloss Solitude) has glorious views over the surrounding countryside. Built for Duke Carl Eugen von Württemberg, between 1764 and 1769, the palace is one of SouthWest Germany's outstanding examples of 18th-century rococo design. Now used as an international academy for artists, the palace can still be visited, but only as part of one of the special guided tours.

Welcome to the world of pigs, pork and folklore: Stuttgart's Pig Museum (SchweineMuseum). Rated the biggest of its kind in the world, according to Guinness World Records, this unique museum opened in 2010. As well as tracing the story of the pig from farm to plate, there are 41,000 pig-related exhibits. Think art, kitsch, and culture; postage stamps and postcards, good luck charms and, of course, piggy banks. There is also a large beer garden, and a restaurant overlooking the porcine sculpture garden.

At the RITTER SPORT Visitor Center, learn all about the world of chocolate and the wide variety of RITTER SPORT chocolate bars. Visitors love the interesting and entertaining items on display in the fascinating interactive chocolate exhibition. In our CHOCO WORKSHOP, children and youngsters (aged from 7 to 18) can create their own chocolate and packaging. In addition, there is a wide choice of chocolates in our modern CHOCOLATE SHOP. And, don't miss our CHOCO BAR, where you can taste new lines of chocolates!

SWABIAN MOUNTAINS

Fairytale castles and natural wonders

The Swabian Mountains offer a wealth of romantic palaces, castles and ancient ruins. Hohenzollern Castle, for example, looks fit for a princess! The rolling, forested hills also hide mysterious underground caverns, rich with fossils. For scenery, nothing beats the Danube Valley (Donautal), with its rugged cliffs. As for cities, explore medieval Tübingen, Bad Urach, Rottenburg am Neckar and Ulm, where the minster boasts the world's tallest steeple. Shop till you drop at Outletcity Metzingen, where Hugo Boss introduced the first factory outlet in 1972; take home the perfect souvenir, a Steiff teddy bear from Giengen. In summer, sit under the stars at the Heidenheim Opera Festival.

In the attractive spa town of Bad Urach, in the foothills of the Swabian Mountains, this is Württemberg's last surviving late-medieval palace. Interior highlights include the Dürnitz, a fine late Gothic main hall; the Hall of Palms (Palmensaal) with the 15th-century table that belonged to Count Eberhard V of Württemberg; the Renaissance Golden Hall (Goldener Saal); and the baroque White Hall (Weisser Saal). Throughout, audio-visual guides help to bring the history of the building and the surrounding region to life.

In Swabia, Giengen an der Brenz is the home and birthplace of the world's most famous teddy bear: the Steiff teddy bear. To mark the Margarete Steiff company's 125th anniversary, the Steiff Museum opened in 2005. Children and adults love the wide range of 2,000 stuffed toys, from elephants to hedgehogs, as well as the bears – each with a trademark button in its ear. Also in the stunning modern museum is a collection of historic toys, a shop for presents and a bistro. New is the petting zoo for little ones.

As the ancestral seat of the Prussian Kings and the German Emperors, Hohenzollern Castle (Burg Hohenzollern) boasts 1,000 years of history. Set on a 2,800 ft/855 m hill, the view alone is worth the trip! On a regular guided tour, visitors get to see lavishly-decorated rooms, such as the magnificent Count's Hall and the Royal Treasury, where among many priceless objects on display, is the crown of the Prussian Kings. The 'Burgschenke' Restaurant serves regional specialties, and, in summer, has the prettiest beer garden in the area.

Founded by Benedictine monks in 1093, Wiblingen Abbey is just outside Ulm. But it is the 18th-century remodeling that visitors flock to see. Designers and painters created a baroque masterpiece between 1714 and 1783. As well as the Basilica of St. Martin, the highlights include the state rooms, with their dazzling ceiling frescoes and murals, and the sumptuously-decorated library. Outside, the traditional monastery garden, shaped like a cross, has been recreated.

International fashion labels. Famous designers. Lifestyle accessories. Attractive prices. Architectural highlights. Excellent cuisine. Loving childcare. Welcome to the OUTLET CITY METZINGEN.

Metzingen, south of Stuttgart, with its world famous OUTLET CITY is like no other. Here shopping is not simulated on green fields outside town but rather stimulated as a real purchasing experience in the centre of town. The city offers a unique aggregation of factory outlets of over 60 international top brands, mostly in spacious flagship stores, with year-round price reductions of 30 -70%.

Surrounded by a picturesque landscape of vineyards, forests and orchards, the historical town of Metzingen is as original and traditional as the OUTLET CITY is future-oriented. Tradition of the town as a centre for textiles and the home of the Hugo Boss brand meet contemporary issues: architecture, fashion, design, lifestyle, culture and cuisine.

Events such as Open Sundays, Late-Night-Shopping, the wine festival or Christmas market offer an attractive supporting programme for your shopping trip.
