KARLSRUHE
AT A GLANCE

Karlsruhe – the cultural metropolis in the Black Forest

Founded as a baroque planned city in 1715, Karlsruhe has a population of around 300,000 and is one of the largest cities in Baden-Wuerttemberg.

As a „Gateway to the Black Forest“, Karlsruhe is considered to be one of the sunniest towns in Germany and is surrounded with beautiful scenery.

It owes its unique townscape as a „fan-shaped city“ to its founder, Margrave Karl Wilhelm, who had his palace built at its centre in 1715, from where the roads emanate like rays.

Culture and art traditionally have a high profile as the Badisches Landesmuseum (Baden State Museum), the State Art Gallery as well as many other institutions prove.

Karlsruhe is of particular importance in the cultural scene with the ZKM (Center for Art and Media), the world's first media museum. The world's largest data base, »ArtsFacts. net« currently ranks the ZKM fourth. So the ZKM ranges among the world's most important cultural institutions.

Moreover, Karlsruhe is a „city on the countryside“ with over 1,000 hectares of public parks, lakes and forests for active and varied leisure activities. The proximity to France can be felt every-where in the city, whether in the local cuisine, the excellent wines or the joie de vivre, which the locals exude.

Culture, nature, pleasure and the Baden lifestyle – there are many reasons to come to Karlsruhe. Karlsruhe. Prepare to be surprised.

WELCOME TO KARLSRUHE

KARLSRUHE

WE ARE A UNESCO CREATIVE CITY OF MEDIA ARTS!

Did you know that Karlsruhe has won the accolade of 'UNESCO Creative City of Media Arts'? The fact that it is the first German city to bear this title is another feather in its cap! Karlsruhe's cultural calendar is as diverse and colourful as life here in Baden's metropolis.

Be it the SCHLOSSLICHTSPIELE – light projections on Southern Germany's largest screen, or the ZKM | Center for Art and Media – the fourth most significant art museum in the world, or the various media installations scattered across the city, Karlsruhe is the place to be to experience art in all its forms. All year round, the boundaries between video, painting, programming, dance and audio blur, not only behind the scenes, but also in interactive exhibitions, city-wide events and much more! You can also enjoy a rich variety of museums, including the Badisches Landesmuseum (Baden State Museum) in the palace, the Staatliche Kunsthalle with its spectacular collection of modern art, and the State Museum of Natural History Karlsruhe with its fascinating vivarium. In addition to a wide range of high-end culture from opera to ballet, important regional and international galleries and numerous museums, this city of culture showcases impressive, innovative ideas and a buzzing small-performance and alternative scene.

24 HOURS

IN KARLSRUHE

Karlsruhe in 24 hours. This gives you just enough time to visit the most important sights, experience the typical flair of the city and try out one or two of the culinary delights.

The good thing about Karlsruhe:

most of the sights can be easily accessed on foot. So why not discover all that Karlsruhe has to offer in just one day?

08:30 am Early risers takenote! Karlsruhe's weekly markets have plenty to offer. The market at Gutenbergplatz is probably the most beautiful, captivating visitors with its full charm of a Saturday especially. This has been the case for 100 years now. This is the most delightful place in Karlsruhe for food-hunters and connoisseurs!

10:00 am Now comes the more energetic part: you can enjoy a magnificent view overlooking the famous „Karlsruhe Fan“ from the 42 m high castle tower. You will have the opportunity to admire the world famous „Türkenbeute“ (TurkishBooty) from the 17th century on your subsequent round tour through the Baden State Museum.

11:30 am The Botanical Garden right next to the castle is an absolute must on the trail: with a variety of exotic tree species from various continents and show houses with cacti and tropical plants, it is considered a popular green oasis in the middle of the city.

01:00 pm Hungry? A treat awaits you on the way to the Cantina Majolika: on the path marked with blue ceramic tiles through the castle gardens into the nearby forest, regional and international culinary highlights can be enjoyed in the courtyard of the Majolika Ceramic Manufactory.

02:00 pm Following a hearty meal, set out to experience the unique ZKM | Center for Art and Media, Germany's "Centre Pompidou". This interactive media museum was voted among the world's top five art institutions. Pro tip: send any bored teenagers or husbands to the zkm_gameplay section!

04:00 pm Off into the shopping paradise: whether it be the ETTLINGER TOR Center, POSTGALERIE or Baden's longest shopping mile, Kaiserstrasse – each one ensures pure shopping enjoyment. The side and parallel streets are also worth a look. Many small shops and galleries offer out-of-the-ordinary fashion options, accessories and artworks.

07:00 pm A long and eventful day is sure to build up your appetite. The Baden cuisine has something to fill a hole in every belly. Ludwigsplatz is one of the most popular places in the western part of the city centre. Numerous restaurants, bars and cafés invite you to linger or enjoy a delightful cocktail here after an extensive shopping trip.

Karlsruhe palace

The Karlsruhe Palace was built between 1715 and 1718. For almost 200 years it was the residence and seat of the government of the Margrave, and then the Grand Dukes of Baden. Today the Palace houses the Baden State Museum. From the palace tower there is a fascinating view of the layout of Karlsruhe – „the fan-shaped city“

Market Square with pyramid

The Market Square with its pyramid, developed by the famous Karlsruhe municipal architect Friedrich Weinbrenner is probably the most well-known place in Karlsruhe and more or less forms the city centre. Here, there is also the city landmark, the pyramid which was built in 1823. Underneath is the crypt of the „Konkordienkirche“, which was demolished in 1807. It is here that the city's founder and namesake, Margrave Charles William of Baden-Durlach is buried. In addition, the municipal Protestant church and the Town Hall are also located here.

Town Hall

The Town Hall was completed in 1825 using plans drawn up by the city architect Friedrich Weinbrenner. A statue of Mercury, the symbol for trade and commerce, graces the top of the town hall tower. The centre of the building features a pillared loggia. There is also a Glockenspiel here, dating from 1981. Inside the town hall a miniature version of the first automobile by inventor Carl Benz as well as a model from the inventor of the dandy horse, Baron Karl von Drais can be seen.

Ständehaus memorial

The Karlsruhe Ständehaus was the first separate new Parliament building in Germany and represents 200 years of parliamentary history in Baden. It is rightfully considered to be a pioneer of democracy in Germany. The „Ständehaus memorial“ has been a reminder of this tradition since 1993.

Municipal Protestant Church

The Municipal Protestant Church was built according to plans drawn up by the famous Karlsruhe architect Friedrich Weinbrenner, as the cathedral church of Baden, on the orders of Grand Duke Karl Friedrich. The foundation stone was laid in 1807 and the inauguration took place in 1816. The vestibule gable is supported by six high Corinthian columns. A gold-plated angel adorns the steeple. Under the central nave of the church is the former crypt of the Grand Duke's family.

Tip:
It is worth taking
a look at the crypt.
There are almost always interesting exhibitions
there.

Grand Duke's Burial Chapel

The Grand Duke's Burial Chapel is atmospherically situated in the middle of the Hardtwald forest. It is the only royal building of that period in Baden to survive the Second World War undamaged. The crypt in the basement of the chapel is well worth seeing with its original stained-glass windows adorned with plant motifs.

www.grabkapelle-karlsruhe.de

Federal Constitutional Court and Federal Supreme Court

Karlsruhe symbolises the „Seat of Justice“ and represents the modern, democratic, constitutional state of Germany. The highest German legal institutions are headquartered here: the Federal Constitutional Court, the Federal Supreme Court and the Federal Public Prosecutor's office. The Federal Constitutional Court has had its seat in Karlsruhe from the outset. It is situated between the palace square and the Botanical gardens. The open design of the official building is supposed to give the impression of democratic transparency.

Prinz-Max-Palais

The Prinz-Max-Palais has a turbulent past. Originally the grandiose retirement residence of a large-scale entrepreneur, it then became the palace of the high nobility of Baden, residence of the last imperial chancellor, former seat of the Federal Constitutional Court and university building. Today the building houses the City Museum, the Museum of Upper Rhine literature, the Literary Society as well as the children's library.

Platz der Grundrechte

„Platz der Grundrechte“ (The square of fundamental rights) was laid down as a gift from the city of Karlsruhe to the Federal Constitutional Court in 2005. Here there are 24 double-sided signs, which deal with the topics of law and injustice – with statements from judges, lawyers and citizens who have come into conflict with the law.

The Hallenbau - the cultural quarter in Karlsruhe

In the centre of Karlsruhe stands the Hallenbau, a former munitions factory dating back to 1915. 100 years later, this listed building is one of the most exciting places for art, teaching and artistic research in Germany. 10 characteristic atriums unite four institutions over a length of 300 metres: the SGK | Städtische Galerie Karlsruhe as a showcase for current art events with art of the 20th and 21st centuries, the ZKM | Center for Art and Media Karlsruhe with its unique reputation as an institution for electronic and time-based art with artistic research, the Staatliche Kunsthalle Karlsruhe

with an important collection of medieval and French art and the HfG | Staatliche Hochschule für Gestaltung as an international place of learning and experimentation on art, theory and design.

The Hallenbau opens up a variety of perspectives on art and artistic work in the extraordinary atmosphere of an industrial monument with exhibitions, events, debates, co-working space, media library, museum shops and café. At the same time, with around 280,000 visitors a year, the Hallenbau is the centre of a lively gathering of people of all generations and nationalities.

Creative park „Alter Schlachthof“ (Old slaughterhouse)

As well as the classical cultural facilities, for a few years now young creatives have been mixing things up a bit at the Creative centre „Alter Schlachthof“. Only the unusual names like „Alte Hackerei“ (Meat chopping) or „Fettschmelze“ (Fat rendering) hark back to the earlier use of the premises, which was finally shut down in 2006. In the impressive red brick buildings today you will find artists' collectives, studio communities, classical craftsmen, architecture offices, agencies for new media as well as the Karlsruhe film board.

In the east of Karlsruhe a lively urban district with gastronomy and cultural establishments has sprung up through the co-operation of the many media workers and creative artists. Thus, the cultural centre TOLLHAUS offers a contemporary programme of comedy, dance, world music, jazz, festivals and open air events, whilst „Substage“ is considered to be one to the most established live music clubs for all kinds of rock music in Baden-Württemberg.

Zoological City Gardens

The Zoological City Gardens, which are also known as „the Green lung of Karlsruhe“, are at 150 years old one of the oldest zoos in Germany. The particular attraction lies in the combination of zoo and gardens with 800 trees from numerous countries as well as themed gardens like the Japanese garden or the rose garden. Two lakes, connected by a canal, are in the centre of the park, from where you can view the gardens and the generously sized animal facilities by gondoletta – boats steered by a wire rope pull.

Exotic house: In a former indoor swimming pool numerous new animal guests await visitors, such as sloths, armadillos and squirrel monkeys in an impressive, recreated rocky landscape as well as numerous aquariums and terrariums.

KARLSRUHE DURLACH

ENJOY OLD TOWN FLAIR AND DREAM VIEWS

With more than 30,000 inhabitants, Durlach is the largest district in Karlsruhe and is often described as the „mother“ of Karlsruhe.

Medieval flair has left its stamp on the old part of Durlach with its picturesque market place, town walls, the palace square and the narrow lanes and old walls. Small cafés and restaurants await you.

PLACES OF INTEREST

Karlsburg Castle

Karlsburg Castle is situated in the centre of Durlach. Only a small section of the first residential palace from Margrave Karl Wilhelm II remains. Today, the Pfinzgaumuseum, housed in the rooms of the baroque Karlsburg, shows the history of the town of Durlach from its establishment up until today, and the Carpathian-German Museum is dedicated to the culture of the Carpathian-Germans from Slovakia. Objects relating to the history of art, culture, society and everyday life are displayed.

Turmberg and Turmberg funicular railway

The 256 metre high Turmberg is the local hill and the landmark of Durlach. There is a comfortable alternative running parallel to get to the top of the 529 steps (affectionately named „witches' steps“): the Turmberg funicular railway. It has been operating on the Turmberg since 1888 and is one of Germany's oldest funicular railways. At the top, you will enjoy a fantastic view from the Turmberg terrace.

NOV / DEC

MEDIEVAL CHRISTMAS MARKET

(IN FRONT OF THE KARLSBURG CASTLE)

In a medieval atmosphere with a campfire, jesters and musicians from a bygone era, the market is fascinating for the whole family. Craftsmen, merchants and knights played by the historicalre-enactment group the „Badische Schwertspieler“ offer a glance into former times in front of the beautiful backdrop of the Karlsburg Castle. Archery, storytellers, crossbow shooting and a fantastic fire show captivate visitors of all ages.

THE REGION

AROUND KARLSRUHE

Karlsruhe is not only surrounded by wonderful forests, picturesque riparian woodlands along the Rhine and sun-drenched plains: nearby Alsace, the Palatinate Forest and the Black Forest are all exciting trip destinations. The perfect addition to a city experience!

Albtal

10 km

The Albtal (Alb valley) is right on Karlsruhe's doorstep – a beautiful and romantic landscape of rivers, meadows and valleys at the northern edge of the Black Forest. The valley owes its name to the Alb River, which gently winds its way from the thermal spring, Bad Herrenalb, past the Frauenalb monastery ruins with its baroque double towers to Ettlingen with its palace and picturesque old town. www.albtal-tourismus.de

The Kraichgau–Stromberg region

25 km

The Kraichgau–Stromberg region is one of superlative scenic beauty and countless attractions, and presents the ideal setting for relaxation and wellness. Deciduous forests, meadows and vineyards are scattered across the rolling countryside of the Kraichgau region, while forests and vineyards dominate the unique landscape of the Stromberg-Heuchelberg Nature Park. www.kraichgau-stromberg.com

Northern Black Forest

30 km

The northern Black Forest attracts visitors with its primordial nature, where valleys and peaks gracefully alternate. Natural areas like the Sommerberg mountain with its treetop walk and the suspension bridge ‚Wildline‘ in Kaltenbronn leads hikers into unspoiled forests with lakes and upland moor. The Monbachtal valley with its mossy, wild romantic paths is a challenge for cyclists. www.mein-schwarzwald.de

Pforzheim

35 km

Nestled in the Black Forest and surrounded by the Kraichgau and Stromberg regions is Pforzheim, the golden city and centre of the German jewellery and watchmaking industry. The city's many cultural offers, including the unique jewellery museum housed in the Reuchlinhaus and the world's largest 360° panorama by artist Yadegar Asisi in the Gasometer Pforzheim, ensure that there's never a dull moment. www.pforzheim.de

Central/North Black Forest Nature Park

40 km

Hikers, cyclists and mountain bikers will be in their element in the Black Forest Nature Park. Whether in walking boots or on your bike's saddle, here you pass through picturesque vineyards, ancient forests and lush orchards. www.naturparkschwarzwald.de

South Palatinate

40 km

The natural beauty of the old arms of the Rhine, quarry lakes and forests, numerous days of sunshine and a mild climate are the characteristic features of the countryside around the Rhine. Bordering the region to the west is the Southern Wine Route, a breathtaking sea of vines receding into the picturesque hills of the Palatinate Forest, which is dotted with castles and palaces. The South Palatinate has a charm all of its own due in no small measure to the quaint timber-framed houses and zest for life of its people. www.suedpfalz-tourismus.de

Alsace

40 km

The holiday region in northeast France is idyllically situated between the Rhine and the Vosges and offers an abundance of leisure activities. A discovery tour by car or bicycle alongside the majestic palaces, Romanesque and Gothic churches, romantic half-timbered houses with colourful roofs or castle ruins on the heights of the Vosges is certainly worthwhile. www.tourisme-alsace.com/en

Baden-Baden

40 km

Locals and guests alike love this sophisticated spa town: the two thermal spas and numerous spa hotels are just the ticket for a break. The exquisite casino, charming old city centre, Kurhaus and many museums exhibiting works by various artists make Baden-Baden a special destination for a city break. www.baden-baden.de

Maulbronn Monastery

40 km

This UNESCO World Heritage Site is considered the best preserved medieval monastic complex north of the Alps. All styles and periods from Romanesque to late Gothic are to be seen side by side, making for a unique atmosphere. Apart from being renowned for its authenticity, Maulbronn Monastery is also known as the place where the Maultasche (a filled pasta envelope) was created. www.kloster-maulbronn.de

Heidelberg

55 km

There are many attractions and cultural monuments waiting to be discovered in Heidelberg, a romantic university city on the Neckar river. The historic buildings, churches and monasteries take visitors on a journey to the past. Favourites and magnets for visitors are Heidelberg Castle and the historic Old Bridge. www.heidelberg-marketing.de

Black Forest National Park

65 km

Baden-Württemberg's first national park was established in 2014. Covering an area of around 100 km² between Baden-Baden and Freudenstadt, the forest is now left to return to a somewhat wilder state. The underlying principle here is: Let nature be. Its location is also rather special: it lies entirely within the Central/North Black Forest Nature Park. The various adventure trails and extensive network of cycling and hiking trails encourage guests to explore nature. www.schwarzwald-nationalpark.de

Europa-Park in Rust

100 km

The more than 100 rides and countless shows at Germany's largest amusement and theme park are a wonderful experience for people of all ages, at any time of year – summer, Halloween or winter. The new Rulantica water park has 25 different water attractions, which include 17 water slides, ensuring fun for the entire family. www.europapark.de
